A GENUINE SOAPSTONE MINE, - From the New Mexican, March 26. |-The Pueblo people sorp mine, and the Chieftain thus discourses ver the matter :- "The other day one of our · prominent citizens rode out up the Fountain three or four miles on a kind of prospecting tour, and at a certain point near the banks of the stream noticed some rocks of a peculiar formation. Instigated by that curiosity so fatal a certain momentous occasion to old mother. Eve, he broke off a piece, and taking it to the creek plunged it into the water for the purpose of ascertaining the consistency and grain.

I pon taking it out of his hands what was his surprise to see a lather formed, and, with a vigorous rubbing, the stone proved to have saponaceous qualities; in fact, possessed all the Possession will be given on the 30th of June, or formation. Instigated by that curiosity so fatal saponaceous qualities; in fact, possessed all the cleansing virtues of the most excellent soap. Greatly surprised, not a little mystified with the profound conviction withal, that he had found a big thing, our discoverer hastily gathered up a few specimens, and brought the same to the drug store of Dr. P. R. Thumbs, where it is now on exhibition, and can be inspected and tested by the curious. The stone is of a dun color, about the hardness of chalk, and forms a perfect lather, while it effectually removes all stains and grease spots from clothing. We have tried the soap personally, and must pronounce it a success. After bathing it leaves the skin as soft and smooth as that of a newborn babe, while the odor is quite pleasant. It is certainly a remarkable discovery, and the query now is, 'What next?' A country that can produce mountains of gold and silver, narrow gauge mules, tarantulas, flea bitten dogs, and mines of soap to wash the whole with, must be capable of producing almost any

WOULDN'T STAND IT .- A lady correspondent of the Cleveland Herald writes from Washington:

"There are five ladies with the Japanese embassy. They have not appeared at any of the receptions, it not being in accordance with the Japanese 'code' of etiquette for their wifes, mothers, and sisters dear' to appear upon such occasions. Well, some emissary of the Prince of Darkness came and whispered in their ears that they must adopt a little-no, the greater half-of our misery and our civilization, the American costume. The gentle Japanese sisters lent a willing ear to these suggestions, and forthwith there appeared an executioner, the fashionable Mme. de R--. They were laced up and tied down, ruffled, paniered, flounced. bowed and trailed, shod in the high-heeled boots of civilization, one size smaller than their feet. Their heads, which they wear comfortably half bald, were loaded with pounds of genuine American hair, at heaven knows how much an ounce-they don't regard expense. And then they were powerded up from an orange peel hue to a delicate lemon, and pronounced perfect, as far as dress goes. 'And that is all the way my dears, Madame Rsaid. Imagine her dismay upon re-entering the room an hour later, with some little ornament she had forgotten, to find them smiling and happy in their half petticoat, half pantaloon dress. I know it is true that the gentle Japs threw off the joke; I heard it from an eye witness, and I am proud to note it for the encouragement of my sex.
